Kalli is the Education Program Manager at the National Credit Union Foundation. In her role, she works to expand the Foundation's ability to deliver education and engagement opportunities to credit unions in formats such as Exploring Why™ workshops, shared learning resources and online learning opportunities.

Kalli began her credit union career in 2013 with CUNA Mutual Group, working with credit unions of all sizes in many different business areas including the Project Management Office, Claims, Sales and Marketing, and with the Lender Development Program. Through her role at CUNA Mutual as a Performance Consultant, she was introduced to the National Credit Union Foundation and began partnering to build new experiential and online learning content. Kalli also attended the Foundation's Credit Union Development Education (DE) Program in 2019 and through all these experiences, she grew and solidified her passion for the credit union movement and the difference credit unions can make.

Shortly after becoming a CUDE, Kalli joined the Foundation team. With experience in learning and development, facilitation and a dedication to helping people live a better financial life through credit unions, Kalli empowers employees across all levels of an organization to understand and leverage the credit union difference.
